

Mission Report
Experts Meeting on Open Education Resources-Based
Teaching and Learning Materials for Ed TECH 1 and 2
Oct 20-21, 2016
SEAMEO INNOTECH, Philippines

Prepared by
Dr Ethel Agnes P Valenzuela
Deputy Director for Programme and Development

1) SEAMEO Officials on Mission

- Dr Ethel Agnes Pascua- Valenzuela, DDPD
OER Project Coordinator for Southeast Asia

2) Background, Description and Objectives of the Activity

OER holds to widen access to education at all levels—both formal and non-formal in a perspective of lifelong learning—and to improve both cost-efficiency and quality of teaching and learning outcomes. After leading the OER initiative for over a decade, the World OER Congress was held in Paris on June 20-22, 2012, during which Member States of UNESCO signed the 2012 PARIS OER DECLARATION.

To operationalize the 2012 PARIS OER DECLARATION, UNESCO, with sponsorship from the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, has launched projects to assist the Philippines in developing its OER-based teacher education curriculum for pilot implementation this coming school year. UNESCO and experts from the Commission on Higher Education and its Technical panel of experts, and the University of the Philippines Open University agreed on the framework for OER course development in EdTech 1 and EdTech 2 or TTL 1 and TTL 2. SEAMEO was tapped by UNESCO to develop OER materials for TTL1 and 2/EdTech 1 and 2.

The Two-day workshop has the following objectives:

1. Discuss the OER project status, trends and direction;
2. Review the OER materials developed for implementing technology for teaching and learning courses
3. Review the learning management system, course offering and assessment for TTL1 Pilot course
4. Agree on partner institutions which will roll out the TTL 1 course

4. Participants

The workshop was participated by approximately 25 experts from UNESCO, Commission on HIGHER Education, UPOU, SEAMEO and participating universities. (See Annex 1 for directory of participants).
